

Pucksters Meet Wrentham in Alberta Baseball Final

Defeated Turner Valley 4-1—
Marconi Struck-Out 13 Opposing Batsmen.

Amid the clamor of a record crowd at the Blairmore Stadium on Sunday afternoon, Angelo Gentile's Pucksters wrote "finis" to Turner Valley's efforts to win the 1939 provincial intermediate baseball championship when they trounced them 4-1. The game was the fifth in the best three-out-of-five-game series and advanced Pucksters to the final against Wrentham.

The game lacked the interest of the previous week's when Coleman had to come from behind in both games to win. On Sunday Pucksters were in the driver's seat from the first inning with Marconi determined they were going to stay there. He pitched a marvellous game, striking out thirteen men. Pucksters got all their runs in the first four innings, Turner Valley getting theirs in the sixth. Johnny Elick was catcher for the locals. Wolsey and Gertin formed the battery for Turner Valley.

Plans for the Wrentham games are still incomplete.

Local Tennis Players Fail at Nelson

The Coleman contingent of tennis players playing at Nelson during the week-end failed to win a single title. George Jenkins was the only one who made a showing, marching to the final of the men's singles where he defaulted.

The local players report the courts in poor condition and the tournament poorly supervised. Jenkins was on even terms with his 6'2" opponent in the final at 5 games each. He objected strenuously to the fact that the net was inches too high giving his opponent an unfair advantage. Failing to get satisfaction he defaulted. Balloch was defeated by a Spokane player in the second round while Shone and Dr. Aiello fared as badly.

Billy Rose's Aquacade at the World's Fair

During the visit of Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association party to the New York World's Fair, through the courtesy of the Fair management, they saw that marvellous show feature of the world's biggest exhibition, Billy Rose's Aquacade. This show is presented in an arena with a seating capacity of 10,000 people, and the stage is 200 feet deep and 311 feet wide, and between it and the audience is a body of water the full width of the stage. On the stage a dancing ballet of 175 go through their performance, then they enter the water and to the accompaniment of a fine orchestra and a male chorus they do marvellous rhythmic swimming displays. Among the galaxy of diving and swimming stars, the top-notchers were Johnny Weismuller and Eleanor Holm. On the evening of the press party's visit, Gertrude Ederle, famed as the English Channel swimmer, appeared during the performance, and was given resounding applause.

The beautiful theme song "Your's For a Song," combined with the gorgeous setting, the bright costumes and the magnificent lighting effects, give the impression of an enchanted land, and the memory of a visit to this, the finest amusement feature of the World's Fair, haunts one for weeks after seeing the show.

Mention is made of the wonderfully efficient system of transporting people to and from the fair to the city. Subway trains are ready at all times adjacent to the Fair grounds, and the night the writer was there, the 10,000 people that poured out of

Canadian Legion Passes Resolutions

Assure Canadian Government of Co-Operation, But Ask For Equality of Sacrifice, and That Wealth be Conscribed.

At a meeting held in Coleman on Monday, resolutions to the following effect were passed:

That we pledge full co-operation to the Dominion government and the Empire.

That the Dominion government set in motion such machinery as will guarantee the men who serve, their employment with all seniority rights, upon their return to civil life.

That the government be asked to intern all aliens classed as enemies of the country.

That all persons, Nationals of the Empire's allies, should be accepted to serve with the Canadian army, and that French and Polish subjects not naturalized be obliged to serve with the forces if classed as fit and eligible.

That the government immediately institute a pegged price on all food-stuffs.

That in the event of conscription of man power, the government be also asked to conscript wealth and eliminate excessive profits.

Appended to the resolution, a paragraph assures the government that the ex-service men of this community join with all others in pledging their heartfelt loyalty, wishes and co-operation to a successful end.

The communication is signed by Thomas Rose, secretary-treasurer

Bellevue Exhibition Cup Winners

The 22nd annual show proved well up to standard of its predecessors, reflecting great credit on the promoters and all who co-operated in making it a success. Many from the Pass towns and further afield attended, and a grand dance at night in the I.O.O.F. hall brought a big day to an enjoyable close.

The cup winners were as follows:

Bellevue and District Horticultural Society Cup and Medal, (most points in outdoor grown produce): T. J. Clayton.

The Henry Birks and Sons, Ltd., Cup (for the best collection of annuals): T. J. Clayton.

The Royal Bank of Canada Cup and Silver Medal (for the most points in indoor grown produce): C. Richards.

Harris Cup (for school art) won by grades 4 and 5.

There were also other special awards in various classes.

S. Kubenic, who was employed at McGillivray mine, left last week to join a Czecho-Slovak battalion which it is reported will be composed of volunteers from Canada and United States. No particulars were obtained from Kubenic before he left, his destination being Lethbridge.

The Aquacade seemed to melt away almost as soon as the show was over. This is only a fraction of the average that attend daily, and the 100,000 daily attendance is about half of the estimated attendance which the Fair management counted on. The record day has been about 300,000. It is without doubt the greatest show the world has seen, and that's saying something for World's Fairs.

Medical Exams For Recruits

To-day Dr. H. G. Claxton is at Pincher Creek on medical examinations for recruits, and on Friday he will examine recruits at Blairmore. A board of four doctors has been appointed. Fifteen applications have been received by Major J. W. Gresham at Blairmore, and he states that there may be others who have applied direct to Pincher Creek recruiting office.

Mr. Sam McDowell's son, of Blairmore, who left the navy on August 28, to rejoin his squadron, will likely be among the pilots sent to the front.

Foss Boulton has been expecting a call to the R.A.F. as he took training at Vancouver last year.

R. Cousins, L. Richards and J. Hogan, the latter a reservist of the U.S. Navy, who has secured a release to enlist in the Canadian forces, are reported to have signed up.

Hitler Responsible for War

LONDON, Sept. 1.—To Parliament Prime Minister Chamberlain said that Reichsfuhrer Hitler "has not hesitated to plunge the world into misery in order to serve his own senseless ambitions." He added:

"We will stand at the bar of history, knowing that the responsibility for this terrible catastrophe rests on one man."

"Had there been the least desire, on the part of the German Government," he went on, "the crisis could have been averted."

"Last night the Polish Ambassador saw Her von Ribbentrop and expressed to him that they were willing to negotiate with Germany about their dispute on an equal basis."

"The German Government without any further warning crossed the Polish frontier at dawn."

Chick Roughead Wins S. A. Tennis Titles

Wins Singles Title And Teams
With Miss Stewart to Win
Mixed Doubles

Coleman retained the men's singles tennis championship of southern Alberta when Chick Roughead brushed aside all opposition to win the title. He succeeds George Jenkins, last year's winner, who failed to defend.

Teamed with Miss Stewart, of Claresholm, he won his second title of the day in the mixed doubles event. Miss Stewart has played at the local courts on several occasions.

Those attending were Reggie Jones, C. Roughead, J. Rogers, R. Rippon, W. Naylor and Roy McLeod. The tournament was held on the courts of the city tennis club, Lethbridge, last week-end.

One Good Reason!

(The Peterborough Review)

A local manufacturer of soft drinks drew attention to the fact that we did not mention his firm last week, when writing about two very well known manufacturers, Better Beverages Ltd., and Boorman's Beverages.

We had a perfectly good alibi for overlooking Gordon's Beverages, and a very natural one too, because this firm has not advertised its products since starting up in Peterborough last winter, taking over Grady's business.

However, we were glad of the opportunity of discussing the question with Gordon Shantz, proprietor of the new firm, and we feel sure that if he is really in earnest about wanting his firm and its products to become better known, he will advertise them.

The prairie wheat crop shows a decided improvement in truthness to variety as compared with last year. This is the story revealed by the analysis of some 24 thousand farmers' wheat samples made this summer by The Crop Testing Plan.

Councillors and Trustees Will Discuss Taxation

Increase of School Taxes
Prompt Action to Find if Economies Can Be Effected

A regular meeting of the school board was held on Tuesday evening. Present: Chairman Fraser, Trustees Sharp, Fleming and Greenhalgh.

Principal Hoyle reported that Grade 1 was over-crowded at Central school, there being 42 pupils. On Tuesday he had instructed five children living in the vicinity of the bluff to attend Cameron school where only 18 children are registered in grade 1. It was also necessary to form two classes in both Grades 7 and 8. He suggested that owing to the crowding in the latter grades that the board order five tables able to accommodate ten pupils each. This was authorized.

The board agreed to meet the council on the question of tax assessments and set the date for Friday, Sept. 8 at 7.30 p.m.

Two requests were received for free books. Last year the board went on record that they would not buy any books for school children. The secretary was instructed to see Sergeant Cawsey and place the requests in his hands.

The wiring at Cameron school was passed by electrical inspector Stewart Murdoch. The job was done during the summer holidays by George Outfield jr.

A letter from Fred Blazenko making application for the position of music teacher in the schools was filed.

Mrs. Hartley Dunlop made application for her name to be placed on the substitute teachers' list. The board has no substitute teachers at the present time and her application was accepted.

The board confirmed the extension of the 10 per cent. rebate on current taxes till Sept. 8.

Several school children have sought entrance to the local school. The $10 entrance fee was again set.

The truancy inspection will be carried by the janitors in the same manner as last year.

Royal Canadian Pacific Engine at World's Fair

An impressive feature in the "Railroads on Parade" pageant at the New York World's Fair, Canadian Pacific Railway Locomotive 2850 is attracting marked attention. The Royal decorations it still carries recall the important part it played in the westward passage across Canada of Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth and make it the outstanding engine on exhibit.

Locomotive 2850 impresses at four daily shows as a powerful, efficient piece of machinery. In, above everything, the engine which hauled the royal train from Quebec City to Vancouver, a distance of more than 3,000 miles, the longest continuous run ever recorded by a passenger train. At the end of that run, Locomotive 2850 worked its way back to Montreal in regular duty, completing practically 6,000 miles of continuous service. The Canadian Pacific Railway announced that the entire trip had passed without engine trouble of any kind; that the locomotive was still in perfect condition and could, if necessary, be turned right around and operated back to the Pacific Coast again. It is one of 80 engines of the same series capable of a similar performance. Four times daily during August the cycloped Canadian Pacific locomotive goes on display at New York; and four times a day spectators echo the words of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth when she inspected the locomotive during the tour: "That's a lovely engine!"

Standing on the engine in this picture are the "Gay Lassies of Yesterday and Today," members of the cast of the pageant.

Democratic Citizenship

It is the sacred duty and should be the pleasure of the voter to vote. The foregoing is probably not a new statement. It has undoubtedly been said before, perhaps not in these exact words, but with the same meaning. But in the light of history, and comparatively recent history at that, it seems necessary to repeat the admonition contained in the opening affirmation from time to time—"Just we forget."

And forgetfulness is one of the excuses of a percentage of those who omit to cast their ballot on election day. It is an alibi sometimes used, whether it be a federal, provincial or municipal election. In these days, however, when so much publicity is given to elections in the daily and weekly press and over the air, it can hardly be classed as an excusable excuse. Rather, it should be labelled a "thin" one.

As a matter of fact, of all the weak excuses offered for neglect to exercise the franchise, forgetfulness is one of the weakest. Even for those who value their democratic privileges very lightly it is a poor reason. While forgetfulness is a weak excuse for not voting, the "What is the use?" attitude is one of the most futile and indefensible, yet that alibi is probably a great deal more popular than "I forgot."

It is futile and indefensible because, often enough, if those who use it were to go to the polls and express their choice, they would be sufficient to turn the tide in the direction of their own desires.

A Serious Diservice

Those who refrain from voting on this ground are doing themselves, their community and the elected representatives and defeated candidates a disservice.

Their breach of duty towards themselves lies in the fact that they are depriving themselves of a function which they ought to perform in justice to themselves. They are taking away from themselves all right to complain if the elected representatives do not conduct themselves in the manner in which the negligent voters would have them comport themselves, if they do not fulfil the promises which they have made or if they do not carry out the policies and principles which these inactive voters would like to have them adopt.

They are rendering a disservice to all the other electors in the electoral district in which they are qualified to exercise the franchise, because they neither lend support to the majority nor give full weight to a minority voice. To the extent to which they refrain from casting their ballots they are nullifying the viewpoint of the entire community.

As for the elected representative and the defeated candidates, they have a right to complain of unfair treatment if the voters do not turn out and register their views at the polls 100 per cent. How can an elected representative carry out the wishes of the majority of his constituents, if he is elected by a minority of them? And that is what happens sometimes in a closely contested election when a number of the voters remain home on election day. He does not know their views, or at the best, can only guess them.

And the defeated candidate also has good ground for a complaint. He might have been elected had it not been for the negligence of some of the citizens.

A Serious Defect

The need for the reminder is evident when it is pointed out that in the federal general elections of 1935 only 242,736 votes were polled in Saskatchewan, or only 54 per cent. of those entitled to exercise the franchise on that occasion. This means that nearly one half of the eligible voters in that province played no part in sending representatives to the House of Commons in that election.

A better showing was made by the Saskatchewan electorate in the provincial elections of 1938 when slightly less than 80 per cent. of the eligible vote was polled. Even that, however, is not a good showing when a little over one-fifth of the voters failed to record their views on provincial administration.

Doubtless, if the figures were at hand, comparable results could be shown in the other prairie provinces.

The question arises what is to be done to arouse citizens of the country to the importance and necessity of taking a greater interest in the management of their own affairs. Compulsory voting, with penalties for failure to exercise the franchise, has been tried and is in effect in some countries, but it is not regarded as an unqualified success.

In any event, it should not be necessary to compel people to look after their own affairs and their own interests and especially in such important matters as government.

The basic principle of democracy is self-government by an enlightened and interested citizenry. This fundamental is badly shaken and the form of government for which our ancestors fought over a thousand year period is seriously imperilled if a substantial section of the citizen body fails to avail itself of its privileges.

New Kind Of Festival

Orange County, New Jersey, Has Flity Honored The Onion

Last year's plans to hold an onion festival in Orange county, New Jersey, had to be abandoned because of floods which ruined much of the crop. This year the festival was held successfully. In a long parade floats showed the entire process of production from growing to marketing. An onion queen was chosen from 55 entries, all of whom have worked in the onion fields. It is estimated that Orange county will yield at least 2,000,000 bushels of onions this year. Most of the growers are Polish-Americans.

Great would be the loss were the onion removed from the world's food stock. From the earliest times of which there are any authentic records it has been highly esteemed. In desert regions it was also used as a preventive of thirst by travellers and soldiers on the march. The original home of the plant was probably southern Asia or the borders of the Mediterranean. Egyptians cultivated the onion at the dawn of history. The high regard in which it was held by the ancients is supported by modern home economists, who point out that it supplies bulk, some minerals and, when eaten raw, vitamin B and C. Robert Louis Stevenson wrote of the onion as "the poetic soul of the capacious salad bowl."

Sydney Smith, in his rhymed "Receipt for Salad," directed: Let onion atoms lurk within the bowl.

And, half suspected, animate the whole.

The hamburger is pepped up when fried with a few onion rings. Onion soup is food for epicures. Onion sauce, fried, baked, buttered and creamed onion and onion au gratin are other culinary treats.

Students work unintermittently to improve the onion. California growers called for a variety that would keep well and not sprout in storage. Their specifications were eventually met by the evolution of California Browns, in which the good qualities of Australian Browns were retained and their poor qualities eliminated. Some of the experts study the volatile oils that cause tears to start when onions are peeled and also "hot growing" temperatures enable the onion to produce more of the tear-producing oil than cooler temperatures," they explain, "but onions grown during winter, spring and early summer have a milder odor than those of the summer variety grown later in the summer."

International Acclaim

Royal Medal Presented To Firestone For Farm Tire

International acclaim came to the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company recently when a cablegram notified it of receipt of the top and only tire award presented at the Royal Centenary Show by the Royal Agricultural Society of England, of which His Majesty the King is president.

The winner of this recognition for distinctive contribution to agricultural progress was the Firestone Spade Grip Tractor Tire, developed by The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. It was designed originally for operation in the cane and rice fields to give maximum traction in deep mud, muck, wet and boggy soils. Its deep, rugged, widely spaced non-skid tread bars dig in and grip, providing a new degree of traction efficiency under the most adverse conditions. It was this scientific design and the strong, self-cleaning construction of the tire that merited the highest award a farm tire ever has received. The cable notifying Firestone of its new honor reads:

"Following exhaustive tests under extreme conditions, the Royal Agricultural Society of England, of which His Majesty the King is president, awarded to Firestone to-day at the Royal Centenary Show, Windsor Great Park, the silver medal for Spade Grip Tractor Tires. Silver medals awarded are the top and only awards for new improvements of outstanding benefit to farmers. There was no other tire award."

Disposal Of Straw

Is Matter Of Considerable Importance To Prairie Farmers

Utilization of straw on farms in the prairie provinces is of considerable importance.

A bulletin issued by the college of agriculture, University of Saskatchewan, states that in normal years only a relatively small part of straw can be fed to livestock or used for bedding. Straw on many farms is considered as a waste and is disposed of by burning. With the advent of the combine, the practice of burning the stubble has become widespread. Plowing under large quantities of straw tends to dry out the soil with resultant lower yields, but with moderate applications, it may be possible to conserve this valuable source of humus.

From the viewpoint of permanent agriculture, the burning of stubble and straw is very wasteful, the bulletin reveals. Large quantities of organic material are destroyed and, where straw piles are burned, the accumulation of ash in one location results in an area of excessively vigorous crop which matures much later than the remainder of the field.

In many instances, birds which once possessed wings, lost the power of flight because it was no longer necessary in their struggle for existence. The penguin is an example.

Dental Surgery In North

"Flying Bishop" Enthusiastic About Only One In Arctic

Dr. Roy A. L. Fleming, bishop of the Arctic, back from Akkavik, described at Toronto the work of the modern hospital and surgery being carried on by the Church of England in Canada at Akkavik, well within the Arctic Circle.

The "Flying Bishop" as he is called by natives was particularly enthusiastic about the recently-installed dental surgery—only one in the Arctic, and the most northerly cathedral in the world.

"The natives have trouble with their teeth when they commence eating white man's food," Bishop Fleming said. "We are trying hard to educate them to come and have their teeth looked at periodically." Bishop Fleming said the X-ray machine was a great benefit to the northern workers. He mentioned a husky Indian trapper who was found to have two pieces of shrapnel in his leg. The X-ray located them and they were removed by an operation.

The Common Sparrow

Was Brought To America To Combat Foliage-Eating Caterpillars

Most ornithologists call this feathered cosmopolitan (the English sparrow) an unmitigated pest of worse, and ordinary citizens as a whole look upon him with hearty distaste. Ironically enough, the bird was imported into this country to combat foliage-eating caterpillars. Eight pairs, having been brought from England in 1850 by directors of the Brooklyn Institute, were liberated in Brooklyn the following year.

During the next 20 years colonies were established also in St. Louis, San Francisco, Cincinnati, Philadelphia and other cities. He now thrives in nearly every part of the country. Indeed, this sparrow of European origin (his native country does not seem to be known) is probably the most numerous of any land bird in the world and the most widely distributed.

He inquired in regard to an air-conditioned hotel and the whereabouts of a high altitude en route to Los Angeles.

"I want to see Boulder Dam," the tourist said, "but I suppose it's too hot for Fido there, isn't it?" On being informed that it was, the visitor said he guessed he would rent an air-conditioned room for Fido in Las Vegas and return for him later.

Magician Who Performed For King Edward VII. Is Dead

Horace Goldin, 65, a magician who claimed to have invented a method of camouflage that would make soldiers invisible, died recently at his home in London. Son of a Polish emigrant to the United States, Goldin worked for several years in country fairs. Later he built up a wide reputation in Britain as a conjurer. He staged command performances at Sandringham, Norfolk, for the late King Edward VII.

Armed Forces Being Mobilized For The Defence Of Canada

Ottawa.—Armories and drill-halls throughout the Dominion were filled with industry as orders were received for mobilization of Canada's non-permanent active militia. How many troops are being called out and where they will be concentrated remained a secret of the defence authorities.

"We appreciate that during the Great War complete information as to the calling out of the troops and the enlistment of units was widely broadcast," said one high official. "But at the moment, with everything coming in a rush, we haven't yet got a clear picture as to how the public interest can be served. Just exercise a little patience, and these things will all be ironed out."

All branches of the armed forces have been placed on an active service footing during the state of "real or apprehended war" which was proclaimed by the invocation of the War Measures Act. This means all the armed forces so mobilized are obligated to the defence of Canada.

Under present conditions the "defence of Canada" entails, for the non-permanent militia, service with in Canada.

The troops may be sent to positions on the Atlantic or Pacific coasts, or anywhere within the country. And they will be required to repel any invader.

Section 68 of the Militia Act does obligate a member of non-permanent force to serve "in the field" wherever that may be. This means any theatre of war, either within or outside Canada. If a man is so ordered, he cannot be compelled to serve for more than one year unless "in case of unavoidable necessity" the governor-in-council orders him to serve for an additional six months.

Banff, Alta.—An all-time record for tourist business at hotels, hostels and camps operated in the Rocky Mountains by the Canadian Pacific Railway was reported by Sir Edward Beatty, president of the company.

Wheat Exports

Clearance Of Wheat Shows Increase Over Last Year

Ottawa.—Total overseas export clearances of wheat during the week ended Aug. 25 amounted to 1,885,710 bushels, compared with 1,733,831 of the same week of 1938, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported. There were no exports into the United States for consumption and milling in bond against 5,000 bushels last year.

Total exports from Aug. 1 to Aug. 25 were 10,445,119 bushels against 5,454,936 during the corresponding period of 1938.

Anti-Sabotage Force

Toronto.—The anti-sabotage force of the Ontario provincial police was increased to 308 men as government officials completed plans to protect public utilities. Single men are being paid $2.60 a day. Married men receive $3.20 per day. The province will insure the lives of these men for $3,000 and provide accident coverage for injuries on duty. Honoring Singer

Montreal.—A plaque to the memory of Emma Albani, famous Canadian opera singer who died in London in 1930, will be unveiled September 14, at her birthplace in Chambly, Que., it was announced.

Guards At Churchill

Assigned To Duty After Water Supply Cut Off

Churchill, Man.—Special guards were assigned to patrol government property at this Hudson Bay grain port following discovery that the water supply of the government terminal elevator had been cut off.

The discovery was made by power plant employees when they attempted to start the boilers and turbines in which supply the elevator with operating power. It was found no water was available for the large boilers and an investigation showed one of the large take-off valves in the pipe which draws water from Rosabelle lake has been opened.

Corporal P. Graves of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is conducting an investigation to determine whether the opening of the valves was an attempt to sabotage the power plant.

Would Register Transients

Want Government To Proclaim National Registration Week

Toronto.—E. A. Horton, Ontario deputy minister of municipal affairs and director of relief, announced the Ontario government had asked the Dominion government to proclaim a "National Registration Week" to determine the number of unemployed transients and other recipients of relief in Canada.

Mr. Horton made the announcement during an address at the Ontario Municipal Association convention here. He said that, if the plan were adopted, the census of signing of registration form would rest with the unemployed man and he would present the form when asking for work or relief.

Higher Pay For Militia

Report That Government Will Pay Higher Rates Than In 1914

Ottawa.—The government was understood to have approved the schedule of pay for the troops at present performing duties in consequence of the mobilization of a portion of the militia, though no formal announcement was made. Particulars of the rates will be announced in a few days.

It was learned that these will be somewhat higher than the pay disbursed to the Canadian troops during the Great War, and that separation allowance—for wives, dependent children and parents—will be somewhat higher.

Cabot Breaks Record

Makes England-Canada Flight 55 Minutes Faster Than The Caribou

Montreal.—Imperial Airways record for the England-Canada flight was broken by the flying boat Cabot which arrived at nearby Boucherville from Southampton, England, in an elapsed time of 27 hours, 50 minutes. This was 55 minutes faster than the record established by Imperial Airways' boat Caribou.

Wants Japan's Friendship

Tokyo.—Domel (Japanese) news agency announced that Italian Ambassador Giacinto Auriti informed Acting Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita, under instructions from the home government, that Italy's attitude toward Japan has not been affected by conclusion of the German-Soviet non-aggression pact.

America's Security

Depends Upon Defeating Dictators

Boston.—Rear Admiral Yates Stirling, retired, told the national convention of the United States Veterans of Foreign Wars, America's security "depends upon defeating the dictators when war starts, and the one way to do that will be to go into the war at first."

"If Great Britain and France should be forced to fight against the aggression of the dictators, we, the present recipients of this protection, have decided through neutrality laws that our trusted friends are to be given not even the help in material which is allowed under the rules of international laws framed for the trade of neutrals with belligerents."

Instead, we close our ports to those who are making secure our Atlantic coast where are our largest cities and greatest industrial life. It certainly sounds both ungrateful and not at all to our own best interest."

Will All Be Freed

But Communists Still In German Camps Get Special Privileges

Warsaw.—The newspaper Kurjer Warszawski (Independent) reported from Berlin that 12,000 Communists remaining in German concentration camps have been given the status of "privileged prisoners."

It said that in order to reach the non-aggression accord with the Soviet union Germany promised to free all Communists, and already has sent some Communists from the Dachau concentration camp to the Soviet union. Kurjer Warszawski added that others are to leave Germany soon.

Souvenir Hunters

Toronto.—It's sad news for dozens of souvenir hunters who have taken valve caps off the four royal automobiles on display at the Canadian National Exhibition. Officials disclosed the caps were not those used on the cars when they carried the King and Queen during their Canadian tour. The originals disappeared to souvenir hunters long ago.

CANADA'S CHAMPION SCOTCH DANCER

The much coveted Hon. Ian MacKenzie Challenge Trophy for Highland Fling and Sword Dance was won by Miss Anna Cummings, 22, Laurentian View, Ontario, during the competitions at Ottawa where dancers gathered from Canada and the United States. Miss Cummings established a record by winning the award for the third year in succession, thus becoming permanent holder of the trophy.

No Capitulation For Germany Says Hitler In Reichstag Speech

New York.—A summary of the translation of Fuehrer Hitler's speech to the reichstag as received in North America by radio follows:

We have all been suffering under the torture which the treaty of Versailles has brought us.

Danzig was and is a German city. Minorities in the Polish corridor have been shamefully mistreated.

As always I have tried to solve the problem by peaceful means. For 15 years there have been opportunities to bring about these revisions but nothing has been done.

All the proposals to remedy these unbearable conditions did not receive any consideration.

You know the proposals that I have made to bring about the return of German territories.

There it is understandable that action must be taken by us.

At last I have formulated the German proposals and I must say that they are very modest.

These proposals that I have made were declined and instead they were answered by mobilization and by heavy reprisals against the German populations in these areas.

I have warned, time and time again, and over three weeks ago warned the English that the existing conditions in Danzig could not continue. One must be careful not to mistake the present day Germany with the former Germany.

Provocations have occurred and no great power can stand by and see these provocations continue.

I have tried to accept the British proposal, but Great Britain wanted to tie up this question directly with Poland.

I carefully worked out these proposals and have been sitting here for two days waiting to hear from Poland.

If one expects the German reich and the German head of the state to accept these conditions then there is nothing else for them to do but to retire.

In answer to my last proposal a general mobilization was ordered in Poland.

I have therefore decided to speak to the Poles in the same language as they are speaking to us.

I have stated and I state again that we have nothing to demand from the western powers.

Time and again I have offered England friendship and if necessary, close co-operation.

Germany has no interest in the west. Our west wall (the Siegfried line) is and will remain our western boundary.

I should like to express at this time our thanks to Italy which has supported us during these recent days.

I see no reason why Russia and Germany should be enemies any longer.

Russia and Germany have declined that use of force between them would be of use only to others. We therefore have decided to renounce the use of arms for all times.

Every attempt of the western powers to change the situation shall fail.

This pact shall mean for all times in the future something very definite to which we shall cling to for all time.

I will take the necessary action but I do not want to fight a war against women and children.

I have notified my air force to restrict its activities. But if our opponents take advantage of this he will receive unmerciful treatment at our hands.

Our soldiers have been shot at, and since 5:45 we have been shooting back.

I shall carry on this fight regardless of again whom it may come until the situation is such that it is acceptable to Germany.

In the last few years more than 90,000,000 marks have been applied to the reconstruction of the German army. Our army cannot be compared to the army of 1914. It is much better than then.

If sacrifices should be demanded of the German people, then let them know too that I am ready to make every personal sacrifice on my part. There shall be no sacrifices made in Germany which I myself shall not share. From now on I belong to my people as never before, and beginning to-day I am the first soldier of the German reich.

My whole life has never been anything but one single struggle for my people.

One word I have learned to know. That is capitulation. November of 1918 shall never be repeated in the history of Germany. As long as I am willing to sacrifice my life for the good of my people, every other member of the reich should do the same. If not, they should be branded a traitor.

With that we recognize again the old principle that our people it is to whom we owe our allegiance. I am responsible for the mood and atmosphere in the reich. You are responsible for the feeling in your districts throughout the country.

I expect every man and woman to take part in this struggle in exemplary fashion. If our will is strong enough then nothing can fail. Greater Germany, heil.

Naval Strength Of Britain And France A Strong Bulwark

London.—The best comfort to most Britons in the present crisis is the navy, challenged but once since Trafalgar.

As the ships take up war dispositions—the Mediterranean fleet combined with the French fleet in that sea, and the Home fleet "somewhere in the North Sea"—naval observers of neutral powers can see but one slim chance for the navies of the Berlin-Rome axis.

The chance is an effective aerial bombardment which would destroy the battleships and heavy cruisers, which form a fleet's main striking weapon. Such an attack, if successful, would revolutionize naval warfare.

Barring the possibility of such an attack being carried out, experts believe Britain and France would have virtual command of the seas almost from the start of the war.

To those same observers the British and French strategy would be almost identical with that developed from the middle of June, 1916—after the battle of Jutland—on to the end of last year. This includes:

1. Immediate blockade of Germany—and in this case Italian—ports and coasts.
2. Provision of convoy for transport of men and supplies.
3. Patrol of French and British trade routes to prevent depredations of enemy cruisers and submarines.

4. Support of land operations by bombardment.

5. Bombardment of vulnerable ports and coasts.

The British-French fleet would have to be on constant guard against a German-Italian smash at the blockade. Nine out of 10 naval men tell you it would be folly for the axis fleet to meet the British and French navies in open battle but the chance is there although it is more remote than in 1914.

Strictly on numbers and tonnage the axis offers small challenge to the British and French. On completion of their current construction programs, Britain and France will command 35 capital ships, 150 cruisers, 14 aircraft carriers, 230 destroyers and torpedo boats and 165 submarines.

Axis figures are much less. They have 20 capital ships, 42 cruisers, two aircraft carriers, 185 destroyers and torpedo boats and 175 submarines.

Submarines would be the axis threat against enemy shipping in time of war. The British and French believe they have found the answer in new detection devices, more powerful depth charges and more effective armament for both merchantmen and men of war.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

WAR'S alarms, propaganda and rumors are with us again after a brief quarter of a century since the opening of the Great War. People of the British Empire have settled down with a calm, grim determination to see it through, no matter what the cost, regrettable though it is to again endure the sacrifices in life of young manhood, besides the outrageous attacks on undefended ships at sea and inland cities of Great Britain.

UP till late Saturday people hoped a miracle would happen to prevent war, but early on the Sabbath a day of peace was turned into commotion by radio messages telling of preparations to combat the war of frightfulness thrust on the world by a warlike madman. The most ardent pacifist must indeed be stirred by the deceit and lying conduct of Hitler, who, while professing to be willing to negotiate was preparing to strike with lightning-swift blows at those he would not meet in negotiations. It is another blot on Germany's bloodstained career. Words cannot express the horror, disgust and contempt which is general the world over at the latest mad outbreak of the dogs of war, unleashed by a fanatical dictator of whom the world would be well rid, "Force against Force" it will be, and may it be so well applied that the German nation will be so thoroughly exhausted that it will not want war for another century.

IT is up to every Canadian to lend his individual effort towards the pursuance of the war. There also should be equality of service on the part of those who are called on to take up arms. There was a lot of unfairness during the last war. In fact a conversation was overheard this week, it is reported, in which two aliens were gloating over the fact that they would benefit from increased work. This type should be seized on and turned over to some form of military service; digging latrines would be the job for them.

THE older generation knows the sacrifices which were entailed in 1914-18, and it is a new generation of young men who will compose the main fighting forces of this war. Not in a spirit of jingoism, but with the knowledge that a dirty job has to be done, they will go forth, and it is up to those who remain at home to do all in their power to see that they are well backed up in creature comforts and that sacrifice should be a part also for the stay-at-homes whom age or other circumstance, does not permit for war service.

ON August 19, in New York Earl Baldwin, Britain's former prime minister, said: "Peace or war depends on one man - Hitler. That is too bad, but it is true." At the World's Fair, he viewed the Magna Carta, included in the exhibits at the British Pavilion, and he remarked that he was "enormously impressed before this foundation stone of our struggles for freedom for the individual; freedom of thought, religion and trade."

He added: "This freedom had its inception in this document for which the common ancestors of British and American peoples fought for 700 years, and maybe will have to fight for another 700 years. I recommend a half hour before the Magna Carta for everyone. It is marvelous and can do much to assure the principles of democracy."

THIS week, in company with Captain Ed. Donkin, the writer made a tour of the North Fork district, going to J. Heaton's fine home, then east to Cochrane and Nicholson's ranch. It is a fine stretch of foothills country, ideally adapted for ranching, and some fine cattle were seen. It was first settled by English people of considerable wealth, and in earlier days polo was a favorite sport of the ranchers. Mr. and Mrs. Heaton, whose large stone house is a prominent landmark, observed by all who go to the Gap during the fishing season, settled there 52 years ago, and still retain a very active interest in community affairs.

INEVITABLY in the course of friendly calls, opinions were expressed on provincial politics as well as the war. Considerable resentment prevails owing to increased taxes and the absurdity of promises made by Social Crediters, which indicates that the farmers and ranchers will certainly not vote for reelection of the present administration.

THOUGH the war will cause political issues to remain in the background, party organizations will not fall into a lethargic attitude. The movement for co-operative action in this constituency promises to develop, despite little differences as to the methods to be followed in selecting a candidate to represent those opposed to Aberhartism. A meeting will be held on Saturday, September 16, at Lundbreck, to which all interested from the Pass towns and the ranching districts of the foothills are invited. The meeting is open to the general public who may favor co-operative action to solve the problems of the province.

Motorists should observe the "Slow" signs at the corner adjacent to the tennis courts. An accident can easily happen there, or pedestrians may be injured. The town is not so big that it requires 60-miles-per-hour speed to get from one place to another. Some delivery truck drivers have come in for censure for unnecessary speeding.

Extension to University Hospital Work will shortly commence on a $20,000 extension to University Hospital, Edmonton. Intended for obstetrical work, the new addition is made possible by a legislature appropriation passed at the last session. Seven additional maternity wards, with air-conditioning and other modern features, are included in the project.

Edmonton's welcome to Their Majesties the King and Queen on the occasion of the Royal Visit has been hailed as probably the greatest in the whole tour by an official commentator attached to the royal entourage. The Portage Avenue spectacle and the massed singing of the crowds were lauded as incomparable. It was said that "God Save The King" has probably never been sung as it was outside the Macdonald hotel, and probably never will be again.

SOME of the clothes sold by transient peddlers give people who buy them a pain, for they usually are misfits in every way. Better by far to go to an experienced clothier, who will at least give you a decent fit. The moral is: Don't buy from a clothing peddler; buy from the clothing stores in your home town.

WEDDINGS

Marconi—Alampi

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Alban's Church on Saturday, September 2nd, when Annie, daughter of Mr. Frank Alampi became the bride of Jack, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Marconi. Rev. R. Hague officiating at the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Joe Alampi, and was charmingly attired in a gown of white point d'esprit over satin. Her veil of silk net was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Miss Katherine Moscharin who attended the bride, was very becoming in a gown of peach satin, carrying a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Gordon Marconi was his brother's groomsmen.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. M. Clifford, organist, played "O Perfect Love".

Following the ceremony a buffet breakfast was held at the home of the bride, the table being centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. W. H. Garner proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom.

The bridal couple left for a short honeymoon, the bride choosing for her travelling outfit, a blue tailored suit. They will return to take up residence in Coleman where the groom is employed at International mine.

New York Has Simple System To Trace Fire Calls

A woman gropes through smoke to the telephone, lifts the receiver and screams "Fire!" into the mouthpiece. If she behaves the way 50 per cent of her sisters and her brothers-behave in the same crisis she will then ask for fire headquarters. When the connection is made she will scream "My house is on fire!" and hang up.

No address is given, no vital information, continues the New York World-Telegram. She does not even say what borough she lives in. Fear has short-circuited her normal, rational mental processes, and the fire department has to solve the all-important mystery of the fire's location without her help.

Eighteen or twenty seconds after she screamed, two engine companies, two ladder trucks, and a battalion chief are rolling through the streets, headed directly for her home, the mystery solved.

How was it solved? By a system worked out by the using technicians of the Fire Alarm Telegraph Bureau and the New York Telephone Co.

Years ago, when the telephone first became a factor in daily life, the fire department alarm bureau went to the telephone company and the fire department. The fire department suggested that all fire calls be immediately traced. Now it is nearly mechanical, a trained response to a situation that works like this:

The woman asks for or dials the fire department. In the central exchange the supervisor automatically plugs in and listens. If the location is given she loses interest. But if the woman fails to say where the fire is the supervisor at once checks the address of the telephone on which the call was made and telephones that information to the telegraph bureau of the fire department. In practice the whole manoeuvre takes less time than the telling.

Reasonable Request

The heads of a big manufacturing plant had this notice at the beginning of the summer season:

All requests for leave of absence on account of toothache, severe colds, and minor physical ailments, and on account of church picnics, weddings and funerals and all other matters to be handed to the foreman in charge of your department before 10 a.m., on the morning of the game.

Hindering Prosperity

News that Canada's exports to the United States during the last three months were double those for a similar period last year show how prosperity could easily come back on this continent were it not for the influence of turbulent Europe.

Canada, during 1937, produced 2½ times as much standard newspaper as the United States, or 73.7 per cent of the total North American production of 4,943,000 tons.

Liked Thrill Of Adventure

British Woman Spy Got Valuable Information About Germany

Behind fine executions carried out at the dreaded Moabit prison, Berlin, lies the story of a beautiful woman who, to "do her bit," and for the thrill of adventure, threw up romance and a life of luxury and safety.

Her career is an epic of the Secret Service, for, despite the efforts of Gestapo agents who were on the lookout for her, she was able to obtain some of the most vital information concerning German rearmament that has passed into British hands.

She was caught at last through being betrayed by a man she trusted as an associate, and she and eight men, taken with her, have paid the penalty of their calling.

The People tell the story of this heroine of the Service that never sleeps.

For months she had been a thorn in the side of the Nazis because of her many daring raids into Germany to direct the operations of British intelligence agents.

A brunette, strikingly beautiful and highly cultured, she was recruited in Berlin society, her German being so perfect that no one doubted her claim to be a member of a distinguished British family.

Some time ago, it is stated, she went to Danzig to organize an espionage service for Britain.

The Gestapo got on her trail through the perfidy of a German posing as French. His suspicions were aroused and he approached her with the suggestion that she should co-operate with him in the Service.

She fell into the trap, accepted the offer, and was left at liberty until her associates in the city were discovered.

There is no extradition in such cases, but the Nazi rulers of the city found a way of getting over that difficulty.

She and eight men said to have been acting for her were seized during the night and dragged into East Prussia, afterwards being transported to Berlin.

Brought before the dreaded People's Tribunal they were quickly condemned to death, and the sentences were carried out with unusual rapidity, providing the headman with one of his busiest moments.

No names have been given in Berlin, but it is asserted that the woman was well known in London society and that she had been presented at Court in the past.

Her desire to follow the adventurous work of a spy in a foreign country she broke off her engagement some weeks before the wedding was to have taken place in one of the fashionable London churches.

Correcting An Error

Writer Discovers Reason For A Familiar Expression

A fellow worker of mine—to wit, a plumber, for plumbers and journeymen have much in their common—has written to correct a technical error in something I wrote and has thereby brought me information that I previously lacked. He says that when I used the expression, "not worth a tinker's dam," I was wrong. Indeed I have often wondered why a tinker's curses should be more useless than those of others.

The real fact is that when a plumber, in pursuit of his mysteries, desires to find a certain place with a coat of solid steel, a wall of dough, or clay, around it and then pours his metal. The material in the wall then being of no further use it is thrown away. Thus we have "as useless as a tinker's dam"—not damn.

Another popular saying whose origin eluded me till recently is that one about "getting his goat." It appears that it was once the custom to keep a goat in stables to soothe the horses. The owner of a race horse expected to win the Metropolitan Handicap raced into a New York bar on the evening of the race, shouting, "they got my goat, they got my goat!" They had indeed stolen the goat and the horse pinned, and was restive, and the race—J.B. in Vancouver Province.

Trip To Sea Floor

Dr. Auguste Piccard, the University of Brussels physicist who 10 years ago was the first human to ascend into the atmosphere and return safely, now plans descent in a steel "balloon" from five to seven miles to the bottom of the sea. He has built his metal shell, and he plans to go below with it next spring.

Just For Sentiment

"Until umbrellas can be sent by telephone," London will have the District Messengers who have run about its streets for the past 50 years. Their work is no longer profitable, but sentiment has outweighed shillings and the company has decided to continue.

Have To Be Accurate

Newspapers Obligated To Be Careful About What They Print

A sampling of public opinion regarding newspapers, which Fortune Magazine reported, shows that a considerable number of people think that the news they get by radio is more accurate than the news they get in their papers.

Well, well! Where do the radio announcers get their more accurate news?

They get it from the newspapers or from the same sources from which the newspapers get their news.

And when Orson Welles turned his radio audience pale with a broadcast of an invasion from Mars, where was it but to newspaper offices that people telephoned for the truth?

The radio is a great instrument for public enlightenment and enlightenment, when properly used, but the man and woman who use it to-day are just as human and just as fallible, as are the men and women who get out newspapers.

And, what is more, they are not subject to that strict accountability for accuracy, which the printed record of what appears in a newspaper holds over the heads of those responsible for it.—Detroit Free Press.

Has Thrilling Job

Canada's Only Woman Steeplejack Is Forerunner Of Her Work

Mrs. Charles Miner, Agincourt, Ont., a comely, petite blonde, gave the uneventful life of a housewife a year ago to become Canada's only woman steeplejack.

Since then she has wielded a paint brush on some of the highest steeples, flag poles and water towers in the Dominion.

"I like it better than washing dishes. I'd rather work up there than do lots of jobs on the ground," Mrs. Miner said as she prepared to clamber to the top of a church steeple.

The Money Maker

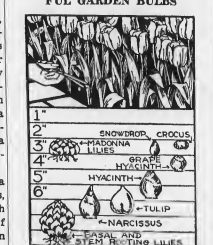

Great Composer Thought He Could Learn From Song Writer

It is said that George Gershwin once arranged to take a lesson in composition from the great Russian composer, Igor Stravinsky, states the Wall Street Journal. When they came to deciding on the fee, Stravinsky asked Gershwin how much his yearly income was.

"About $250,000," was the reply. "My boy," said Stravinsky, "you should be giving lessons to me."

BOON TIME TO PLANT COLORFUL GARDEN BULBS

Know Correct Planting Depth
Gay tulips nodding in the breeze, crocuses shyly peeping above the grass! These delights you will surely want in your garden next season, so remember that bulb-planting time comes in a few weeks.

Preparations for bulbs are simple. Best to have well-drained soil and if you use manure bury it deep so bulbs won't touch it, but roots will find it.

A good rule of thumb to follow in planting is to cover each bulb to a depth about three times its diameter. For formal beds choose early tulips and hyacinths which you can lift after blooming and replace with other flowers.

In raised borders narcissus and Mayflower tulips show up beautifully—need not be lifted.

If you have a bit of lawn that needn't be cut often, plant snowdrops, crocuses, and daffodils in charming scattered effect. By knowing a few pointers on their care, you can keep these and other bulbs blooming for years.

Instructions for bulbs, for complete garden, too, are given in our 32-page booklet. A well-known horticulturalist gives advice on soils, fertilizers, pests and diseases. Tells how to care for lawns, trees, shrubs, grow annuals, perennials, herbs.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "Plant and Care For Your Garden" to Home Service Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

The following booklets are also available at 15c each:

IDEAL FOR VACATION OR SCHOOL

By Anne Adams

Smart little girls like to be "in Dutch" this year, in gay imitation of the popular young screen star, who inspired this delightful Dutch-girl dress, Pattern 4203.

Pattern 4203, Anne Adams has given it a quaint charm and a simple-to-sew style that the Sewing Instructor will make even easier. Isn't the short, flared skirt dashing? See its eight decorative gorges and its button-trimmed belt! That wide white collar is refreshing and crisp, and the bodice closes with snappy big buttons all down the front. You might add extra style with a big floppy bow in a bright color, and cleverly shaped pockets. Make one frock in Dutch-blue checked cotton; another in dark wool.

Pattern 4203 is available in girls and junior sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14. Size 10 takes 3 yards 35 inch fabric and 1½ yard contrast.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size Name, Address and Style Number. Send money by money order to Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Fingerprint May Replace Fingerprinting

Poroscopy is destined to replace fingerprinting as the exact science for identifying criminals, believes Capt. Douglas E. Walsh of the police identification bureau at Dallas, Texas. "Sweet pores in fragments of fingerprints have proved to be infallible when it was impossible to make positive identifications from just fingerprints," Walsh told the Texas division of the International Association for Identification.

"While officers may be unable to identify a criminal by a trace of his fingerprint," Walsh said, "the presence of about 1,000 pores to a fingerprint pattern is more than sufficient for identification."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

SEPTEMBER 10

HEZEKIAH: A KING WHO REMEMBERED GOD

Golden Text: Turn us again, O God; our eyes shall be saved. Psalm 80:3. Lesson: II. Chronicles 30.

Devotional reading: Psalm 118:24.

Explanations And Comments

The Israel Passover Proclamation, 2 Chronicles 30:1-12. Hezekiah sent couriers with letters throughout both Judah and Israel, from Beersheba on the south to Dan on the north, directing the people to come to Jerusalem and keep the Passover. Hezekiah was king of Judah, and therefore the customary phrase to describe the length of the land, from Dan to Beersheba, is reversed, making mention first of the city of Judah.

We Passover kept, 2 Chronicles 30:13-22. Accordingly, in the second month a great assembly met in Jerusalem to keep the feast of unleavened bread. The idolatrous altars that had been erected throughout the city were broken up and the debris was cast into the brook Kidron before the paschal lamb was sacrificed to partake of it, when according to the law, they carried out their duty.

Very irregular was Hezekiah's observance of the Passover. He held it in the second month and the first month was the time for it. He allowed those who were ceremonially unclean to partake of it, when according to the prescribed rules they should be visited with terrible punishment for such sacrilege.

He prolonged the observance of the feast to twice its customary length, for his reasons were good and his motives were pure. The temple had not been purified in time for the keeping of the Passover in the first month; many of the worshippers from the Northern Kingdom were ignorant of the ritual as regards ceremonial cleanliness and have excluded them from the feast would have been to destroy their new-found devotion to God. Hezekiah was faithful before Jehovah his God, and in every work that he began in the service of the house of God, and in the law, and in the commandments, to seek his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered, 2 Ch. 31:20, 21.

The closing verses of our text show that the people of Judah were marked by an overflow of rejoicing and a new impetus to the whole social life.

Has Two Meanings

Weather Forecast Is Explained By Meteorologist At New York

The Weather Man is going to break down and tell people what it's all about.

James Osmun, United States Government's meteorologist at New York, confessed he and fellow forecasters have suspected all along their pronouncements were baffling many people—and they've concluded the fault lies with the meteorological terminology—words that mean one thing to the Weather Man and something else to the man on the street.

"For instance," he said, "we may predict: 'To-morrow: Fair and warmer,' and we'll be right, because the temperature will rise, but the average person will feel cooler because other factors change."

The layman's weather is made up of three elements, Osmun said—temperature, humidity and air motion—and these have to be interpreted in terms of the individual locality set of conditions. statistically, you might feel warm in New York, but cold in Denver.

The researchers found the best day—when you feel cheerful and peppy and your mental and physical processes are at their best—is a warm day, not hot, with a high relative humidity and a light wind.

Railways Have Speeded Up Freight Service To Satisfy Patrons

Back in 1920, says W. L. Clark, in the Windsor Star, in the railways took your freight and left you to wonder if you would get delivery this year or next, freight trains averaged 247 miles per day. For the first half of 1939 the freight trains have increased their average speed to 400 miles per day. With the patrons wanting faster delivery of freight, the railways have been trying to meet the demand. Faster trains and better accommodation in picking up and delivering loads has meant more satisfaction to people, who wondered why the railways took so long to try and regain some of the business they had lost to the motor trucks.

Almost Century Old

Least you think C.O.D. is something new, says W. L. Clark, in the Windsor Star, it is almost a century old. The Railway Express began using C.O.D. for cash on delivery transactions 98 years ago.

THE SENSE OF TASTE

Man tastes with his tongue while some animals, for example fishes, taste with the whole body. An infant tastes with the middle part of his tongue and an adult determines with the center of his tongue whether food is pleasing or not.

Food is tasted by means of the taste buds of which the cow has about 15,000, the antelope 50,000 and the pig 3,000. The whale has very few taste buds and gulps its food so quickly that it does not bother about the taste. Among horned cattle, taste is important, and they scrupulously select the grasses they like.

We know four distinct tastes: sweet, salty, bitter and sour. The sweet taste is perceived on the tongue the quickest, because the taste buds for sweets are located at the tip of the tongue; then comes salty and sour taste. Bitter things are tasted at the back of the tongue.

Taste can be regulated. Warm coffee requires less sugar than cold, because warmth is a stimulant to the taste buds. No matter how much sugar is added to ice cream it will not seem too sweet, because when cooled the taste buds scarcely function. If the tongue is rubbed with ice, one fails to perceive different tastes, a good method in taking bitter medicine. Taste is a fine sense. It can be trained. Tea tasters are able to tell the place of origin of a tea after a single tasting. Wine tasters can tell from where a certain variety of wine came and also whether the grapes from which it was made grew in a sunny or a shady field.

Backs Woman Expert

Chicago Grain Authority Is Upheld By Canada's Corn Hind

The woman who won international respect as an authority on Canadian agriculture and live stock, Miss E. H. Miller, of the Winnipeg Free Press, expressed the hope that Mrs. Eileen Hemmington Miller, of Chicago, would win her statistical feud with United States masculine experts.

Mrs. Miller, the only woman grain authority in the United States, this summer has carried on a friendly dispute with five other Chicago crop experts regarding the probable size of the United States winter wheat crop. But it is that winter wheat issue has ended in a draw. Mrs. Miller estimates the crop at 501,132,000 bushels. Government experts put it at 550,710,000 bushels, and only Governmental revisions will be issued from now on.

Miss Hind, now agricultural editor of the Free Press, has established a world-wide reputation for accuracy in 30 years of crop estimating for the newspaper. She expressed her sympathies with Mrs. Miller for "five or more to one always inclines me to back the one who stands steady against long odds."

Mrs. Miller, curly-haired mother of a six-year-old son, and known throughout the grain industry as "E. H. Miller," has not budged from the position she took early in the year that the winter wheat crop would be "around 500,000,000."

Grammar Was Correct

Judge N. J. Bonelli's grammar was all right when he said Him would have to serve 90 days in jail. His is Yee Yuen Him, a dishwasher in Chicago. Him's (that's correct, too) employer, Benjamin Joe, charged Him with wrongfully buying liquor and charging it to the restaurant where Him worked.

Strange Journeys

It takes all kinds of people to make a world, indeed! Recently a cyclist was interviewed who had left England by steamship during the summer, arrived in Montreal and cycled to Sault
Ste. Marie. Here he embarked on the "Assiniboia," a C.P.R.
Great Lakes steamer, coming to Fort William. His intention was to cycle to Vancouver, and embark for New Zealand, where he hoped to arrive by Christmas.
He could tell many interesting incidents of his experiences, but never thought them worth while on which to write a book.
Modest man!

A couple of weeks ago a man
drew up at The Journal office, named E. A. K. Sheppard, who left the Vancouver Province building on horseback on June 1 to ride across Canada, and whose intention was to embark for his former home in England. The sturdy animal which carried him, a 9-year-old mare, looked in fair condition, though he stated that between Hope and Princeton it was difficult going,
and the mare was without feed for nearly thirty hours. Some parts of the trail he had to cut his way through.
